

EXHIBIT C — SIDE-BY-SIDE COMPARISON

Original Exhibit C to the Declaration (Doc. 2000-166795, recorded November 20, 2000) against the Exhibit C substituted in its entirety by the First Amendment (Doc. 2001-115825, recorded July 26, 2001)

How the two schedules were aligned

The original Exhibit C carries no apartment designations — its first column holds only a floor-position number (1 or 2), so no row can be matched to an apartment on its own terms. The two schedules are therefore aligned positionally, row 1 to row 1 through row 40 to row 40. That alignment is corroborated: the apartment-type sequence (A/B/C/D/E/F/G) is identical down all 40 rows, and 34 of the 40 parking-stall numbers are unchanged and appear in the same order. The apartment numbers shown below come from the 2001 schedule and are supplied for reference only — they are not present in the original.

What changed

Field	Rows changed (of 40)	Nature of the change
Apartment number	40	Added — absent from the original schedule entirely
Apartment type	0	Unchanged in every row
Building type	1	F-201 only: Type I → Type II
Parking stall	6	6 reassignments; the other 34 stalls unchanged
Net living floor area	40	Every row revised
Covered lanai area	40	Every row: 215 → 206 sq ft (−9)
Loft area	12	Every lofted row: 604 → 657 sq ft (+53)
Common interest	0	Unchanged in every row; total remains 100.0%

Red type marks a value that differs between the two schedules. Blue marks a value supplied by the 2001 schedule that had no counterpart in the original.

Notes

Common interest is untouched. All 40 percentages carry over unchanged — twelve at 3.0%, sixteen at 2.575%, twelve at 1.9%, totalling 100.0%. Voting weight and assessment share were therefore not affected by the substitution.

Exhibit C — Original (2000) vs. First Amendment Substitution (2001)

The area figures were restated across the board. Covered lanai drops 9 sq ft in every apartment (215 → 206) and loft area rises 53 sq ft in each of the twelve lofted apartments (604 → 657). Net living area was revised in every row. The pattern is consistent with a re-measurement carried out against the First Amended Condominium Map, which this same amendment substituted for the original map.

Neither schedule sums the area columns. The Totals row in both prints only the common-interest total. The area figures above are reproduced as recorded and have not been footed.
